The Department of Environmental Studies at New York University is searching for Course Assistants and Graders for the Spring 2023 semester.

Course Assistant Opportunities (past syllabi are attached):

- ENVST-UA 900.001 - Environmental Studies Senior Seminar
    - Prof. McDermid
    - T/Th 11:00am - 12:15pm
- ENVST-UA 450.001; ANST-UA 600.001 - Animal Behavior for Compassionate Conservation
    - Prof. Franks
    - Th 4:55pm-7:25pm
- ENVST-UA 310.001 - Environmental Quantitative Methods
    - Prof. Winner
    - T/Th 9:30am - 10:45am
- ENVST-UA 440.001 - Food, Animals, & The Environment
    - Prof. Schlottmann
    - M 4:55pm-7:25pm
- ENVST-UA 480.001 - Environmental Justice and Inequality
    - Prof. Jerolmack
    - T/Th 9:30am-10:45am

Grader Opportunities:

- ENVST-UA 385 - Climate and Life
    - Prof. McDermid
    - T/Th 3:30PM-4:45PM

Minimum Qualifications:

- Ph.D. degree, Master's degree, or a current Masters, J.D., or Ph.D. student in environmental social sciences, humanities, environmental sciences, a relevant a natural science, or animal studies
- Coursework and/or experience in environmental social sciences, environmental sciences, humanities, or animal studies

Job Responsibilities:

- Grading, attending class sessions, and working with students but not leading a recitation
- Assisting students with course material during office hours, and answering emails from students to ensure proper understanding of the course material
- Organizing online course materials, and supporting Brightspace (Learning Management System)
- Holding regular office hours

How to Apply:

Please send a current C.V. and statement of interest to cps236@nyu.edu with the subject line "COURSE NUMBER_SEMESTER_Course Assistant Application." Review of applications will begin on November 3, 2022, and applications will be considered until the position is filled.